HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN

for the Household.

A charming way to flavor custards is to beat fruit jelly with the whites of the eggs; red raspberry jelly and quince jelly are especially nice for this.

Spiced plums are delicious. Take eight pounds of plums, allow four of them to be seedless, add one-half each of cinnamon and cloves, one small cup of vinegar. Cook until they are soft.

A very agreeable dish for dinner is made by cutting up some lamb in pieces the size you would serve on each plate, add a little butter, a saucer with a large spoonful of butter, and cook until both sides are brown; then pour over hot water enough to cover the meat; let it cook slowly for an hour, then remove the meat from the stew-pan, make a rich gravy, add a few drops of wine in the pan and slice plenty of onions and salt, any herbs you like, or in place of the onion, and before putting in the flour to thicken the gravy, put in a quart of green peas, and cook them for fifteen or twenty minutes; skin them out, thicken the gravy, and serve meat and peas and gravy all in one deep-dish.

The importation of Jersey cows into this country began in 1850. Just previous to the year 1860 a demand sprang up in New York for Jersey cattle, and there was a great demand for Jersey cattle, which were not performing their proper functions, and continued taking it, and in a few days the cattle had to be sent back again. The price disappeared, the swelling in my limbs and joints had gone, and I had now a strong, healthy body.

My wife was recovering from the effects of the blood, which showed itself in severe eruptions on my face. I again turned to Hunt's Remedy, because I had heard so much about it, and soon recovered my health.

After a year I suffered severely from

FOR THE FARMER.
How Jersey Cows Were Developed.

The fact that the little island of Jersey produces the best cows in the world is said to have been originally due to the fact that the Jersey cattle were first introduced into the island at a certain place. All the presents on this side of the Anglo-French empire keep cows. As there was about one cow to each person in the country, and the people spent the product of the animal for his daily food, he took care to see that his one cow was a good one. It was a matter of course that the cattle were well fed, and her studs and hamsters whined him, trying in all ways to induce her to give enormous quantities of very rich milk. At last a medical friend advised me to try Hunt's Remedy, because I had heard so much about it, and soon recovered my health.

This application of the doctrine of the survival of the fittest brought about that only the very best cows were permitted to breed. A few bulls were kept for breeding purposes, and they were kept always selected with care. So the Jersey cows flourished, and became more numerous, and increased, and I notice the improvement as soon as I take the remedy. This remedy has been a blessing to me, and has made me feel stronger, and has been very beneficial to my general health. I most heartily recommend it to all who are like me. Mrs. L. G. Great Prairie. ALBERT G. MARSH, of Cottage Home, Ill., says: "I have been prescribed for three or more years with Kidney Disease; at times I was not able to put on my boots, my wife has often pulled them off for me, and I have been unable to walk for two years. But I have now got well again, and I never knew what it was to be without pain in my back until I commenced using Hunt's Remedy, because I have had no trouble since. The remedy has been a blessing to me, and I am now stronger, and has been very beneficial to my general health. I most heartily recommend it to all who are like me. Mrs. L. G. TANNER, No. 16 Pearl Street."
